

Pastor's Message

Our brains are fluid, always adapting and changing to whatever we put in. Take, for example, salt. Our daily intake can alter the chemistry in our brains which can develop cognitive disorders.

Alcohol and drug use pose similar problems. But our brains are much more than just the things we ingest or inhale. For example, social media companies are currently being sued over the belief that continuous feeds (a endless “loop” of content) can mold areas of our brain connected to emotions, leading to more radical responses. Or take CTE, often caused by head trauma and concussions, which have shown a regressive disorder that kills off parts of the brain over time. It’s also been proven that conspiracy theorists weren’t always fringe thinkers, but after being inundated with plausible or implausible conjectures, one becomes more likely to be susceptible to conspiracy theories in the future. And due to companies relying so heavily on logos, we see 5,000 to 10,000 pieces of advertising that works subconsciously to encourage us to live into a consumeristic society. Our brains are constantly contorting and yet, most of us don’t see these effects playing on our lives.

I believe the church is pivotal in combating our evolving brains. God makes clear through scripture how we should live, but many times, I see people making arguments that are anti-Christian while professing a deep and abiding love with Christ. One cannot be living into the command to love our neighbors and excuse the brutality we find in our nation. One cannot care for the orphan, widow, and alien while encouraging the reduction of access points to alleviating hardship. One cannot claim divine blessing under a Trinitarian God while trashing people we don't agree with. It's ok to have differences of opinion and to provide other ways to solve some of these deep problems, but it seems that there are very vocal Christians who will deny the imago Dei (the image of God) that is found in each of us from the very first pages of the Bible. And much of what is being repeated comes from misinformation that poses as factual.

I firmly believe that the whole world might not become Christian, but for those who do openly profess, there is a grounding that happens through the daily reading of scripture, the ongoing singing of hymns, and the consistent attending of worship. Without these three activities, we are failing to mold our brains to be the way God has desired them to exist since we first came into being. As Linda Brooks taught us in our Going Deeper series in September on mis- and dis-information, we cover our ignorance in our faith by, paradoxically, believing we are actual experts in the field (it's called the Dunning-Kruger Effect). Thinking this over, I wondered if I wanted to be considered an expert in the faith because that would mean I have a brain that is molded into the "mind of the Lord" (1 Corinthians 2:16). Even with a Masters in Divinity, I am not the master of all things divine. God still challenges me, molding my brain from the ways that I sometimes damage it by my own actions.

In Martin Luther's day (16th century), he argued that it was easy for the church to deceive the people because traditionally, it wasn't possible for the commoner to read the Bible or even understand the worship service (it was said in the dead language of Latin). He wrote deeply about the solis, the Latin word for "only". Faith, Grace, Christ, Word of God, and God's Glory only. These were the five points Luther looked to as his guiding star. As Psalm 46 sings out, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear, though the earth should change..." (vs. 1 and 2); this was the basis for the hymn "A Mighty Fortress". When we ground our understanding in the five solis, our brains align with the plans God has for us ever since the beginning of creation.

The counter-argument will always be: "But we're too busy in this world". Just remember: our brains are always being shaped by the decisions we make and the things we put into it. So, yes, I totally get that we live in hectic times. But then our choices become even more important and sacrifices have to be made Straight from the post office, we have copies of the fall issues of Living Lutheran and Christ in Our Homes. Living Lutheran gives you all the latest news from our denomination and Christ in Our Homes is a daily prayer guide. We encourage you to grab your free copy of both and maybe an extra copy for a friend/neighbor! All available copies are in the narthex of the church or can be delivered to you upon request.

Music Notes

Music Director

"Wild is the music of autumnal winds amongst the faded woods." William Wordsworth

And so it is October! I like that quote from Wordsworth because it describes so well what we hear in the fall—geese migrating, nuts and twigs dropping, gentle breezes, leaves crackling underfoot—it truly is a music all its own. What a great time to breathe in God's creation!

Choir rehearsals are underway and we are busy preparing anthems for our upcoming services such as Reformation, All Saints, Thanksgiving, Advent & Christmas. There's always room for more singers in the loft if you'd like to join us! We meet on Wednesdays at 4:30 and sing for approximately an hour or so. It's a great time of fellowship, laughter & music. Please see me after the service if you're interested.

October also ushers in our Noontime at Emanuel concert series. We open our season with Baroquen & Bright—a concert of contrasts, a celebration of light. This oboe & piano trio consists of Ruthie Garcia, oboe, Todd Kennedy, oboe & Alec Davis, piano. Their music spans from the Baroque period into the 21st century and promises to be a delight. Don't miss them on Wednesday, October 21st at noon right here in our sanctuary! All concerts are free (donations are always welcome!).

Also coming up in November—a Jazz standards duo of Joe Natale on sax & Alex Smith on piano. More details in next month's newsletter about this great group.

B2Y

When Bad Things Happen to Good People by Harold S. Kushner
Gathering: October 24 at 11 am in the Living Room and via Zoom

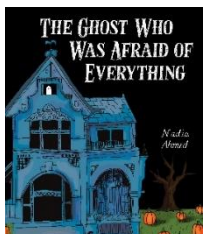

Why does life seem unfair? And can we blame God? Please read up to and including chapter 6 for our next gathering.

Book Club

My Conversations with Martin Luther by Timothy F. Lull
Gathering: November 1 during Coftea in the Living Room

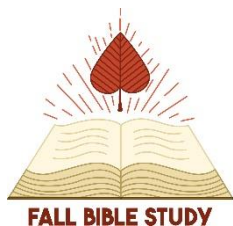

If Martin Luther was still alive, what would he be learning? In this short book, Timothy Lull thinks he knows as he experiences Luther's spirit on this side of the grave. What surprises you about this book?

Kid's Book

The Ghost Who Was Afraid of Everything by Nadia Ahmed

Change is scary, as scary as Halloween can sometimes be! But with trusted friends and family members, we all can face change with bravery. Read about the ghost who overcame it all with the help of others.

Bible Study

Deuteronomy

Gathering: Wednesdays at 1 pm usually on Zoom

In 12 one-hour sessions, we'll explore the purpose behind Deuteronomy. As Bible study needs a community to discern God's Word, you are welcome!

Bible Voyagers

Gathering: October 18 during Coftea in the Living Room

We're here to help you read the Bible, cover to cover. No matter where you are in the process, check in with us on this day for support, to ask questions, and seek better understanding.

CHILDREN'S Sunday School

Rally Day on September 13th kicked off an exciting year ahead for us. Joined by children of all ages, we had special food, arts and crafts, and a scavenger hunt (we may have seen Pastor Kevin outside of the sanctuary while church was going on...). During the worship service that day, our own Olivia provided the congregation with handmade crosses and the teachers received a special blessing. Despite the rain, there was only sunshine and Son-shine in the church! There is always room for more students and we encourage you to reach out to your friends and neighbors. If you have any questions, you can contact Helayne McDonnell.

YOUTH GROUP

One thing everyone seems to agree on is that our world needs more love, not less. As the election season gets closer, we might be surprised how this affects even those not eligible to vote, like our youth. Our own negative views of our neighbors play out across social media and daily interactions, and our children are absorbing more than we know.

As we prepare for the youth gathering, our youth group students will be working this month on sharing and receiving more love. As we explore the Bible stories like Jesus caring for the least, we will weather our own storms and insecurities, growing in love for one another and for God. Join us for our youth group meetings on Friday, October 9th and 23rd at 6:30 pm. Friends are welcome! Please see Pastor Kevin for more information.

WHERE'S JESUS?

Do you know in the past month where Jesus was from this picture? This month's find comes to us from the Edelmans. The answer is below. Send us a picture of where Jesus is for next month's entry. You can email our church office. Include the location in your email.

Answer: At the local pool on the diving board. Jesus is officially saying "Goodbye" to summer!

GOING DEEPER SERIES

Last month, Linda Brooks started off our new Going Deeper Series with a two-part class on mis- and dis-information. It was a powerful class! This month's "class" is a national movement among ELCA congregations bringing together the patchwork of our hands.

During the recent Women of the ELCA convention, participants were asked to contribute to a paper quilt square reflecting on the question: "What does faithful love look like in anxious and divided times?"

Join us during Coftea on October 25th (Reformation Sunday), not only honoring and affirming our recent Confirmation students but affirming all of us in building a paper quilt on the theme: "God's Dream". This quilt will be on display on November 3rd as people from our community will gather to cast their vote in the primaries. All instruction will be provided during Coftea and you won't have to bring materials with you (although if you have an idea of what you want to do ahead of time, you can always bring in your own materials to ensure you have all you need; see Pastor Kevin for a square ahead of time).

If you can't join us on October 25th, you can find instructions and background information below to do on your own. We will have the remaining materials available during Coftea on November 3rd (in case you don't finish). All squares need to be in by November 4th.

TABLE TALK

Continuing last month's Table Talk, we look at the second part of the sacrament of baptism found in Martin Luther's Small Catechism. For the first half of this discussion, see September 2026's newsletter.

THE SACRAMENT OF HOLY BAPTISM

III How can water do such great things?

Clearly the water does not do it, but the word of God, which is with and alongside the water, and faith, which trusts this word of God in the water. For without the word of God the water is plain water and not a baptism, but with the word of God it is a baptism, that is, a grace-filled water of life and a "bath of the new birth in the Holy Spirit," as St. Paul says to Titus in chapter 3, "through the water of rebirth and renewal by the Holy Spirit. This Spirit he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, so that, having been justified by his grace, we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life. The saying is sure."

IV What then is the significance of such a baptism with water?

It signifies that the old person in us with all sins and evil desires is to be drowned and die through daily sorrow for sin and through repentance, and on the other hand that daily a new person is to come forth and rise up to live before God in righteousness and purity forever.

Where is this written? St. Paul says in Romans 6, "We were buried with Christ through baptism into death, so that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we too might walk in newness of life."

SOCIAL MINISTRY

...for I was hungry, and you gave me food, I was thirsty, and you gave me something to drink... just as you did it to the least of these who are members of my family, you did it to me.” -- Matthew 25:35 and 40

Jesus spoke these words near the end of his earthly ministry, exhorting his followers to care for one another and their neighbors as they would care for him. These words apply to us as Christ’s followers, too. There are some definite steps we can take to feed our neighbors around the corner and around the world.

First, we can donate food to be given to Feeding Westchester, which supplies many of the food banks throughout the county, as well as its mobile food pantry, which delivers food to those who do not have a food pantry nearby. Food pantries in our area and across the United States are reporting a marked increase in the number of clients they serve. There are several reasons for this. Food prices have increased as have costs for housing, fuel, etc., while wage increases have lagged behind. The federal government has cut funds to programs like SNAP, which has contributed to increasing food insecurity.

The most needed items are:

Beans	Canned meat/fish
Shelf-stable milk	Peanut butter
Whole grain cereal	Pasta
Low sodium canned vegetables	Rice

To help our neighbors with their health, please look for labels which read:

Low sodium	No sugar added
No salt-added	Unsweetened
Reduced sodium

Please do not donate items in glass containers, or items that have reached their expiration date!

Please put your donations in the basket or shopping cart in the parking lot entrance to the building.

Second, monetary donations also help feed our neighbors. To feed our local neighbors you can make a donation through Emanuel and designate it for Food Pantry. These gifts will go to the Interfaith Emergency Food Pantry of Pleasantville to help them provide food for their clients. To help our neighbors globally, you can make a donation through Emanuel and designate it for World Hunger. These gifts will be sent to ELCA World Hunger to support its hunger projects around the world.

Thank you for your generosity in helping to feed our neighbors!

Submitting Names for All Saints Sunday and Veterans Day Commemorations

This year, we are streamlining a process to submit names for both All Saints Sunday (which will be observed on November 1 this year) and our special Veterans Commemoration (which will be observed on November 8).

For All Saints Sunday submissions, all requested names should have been baptized, confirmed, or died since our last All Saints Sunday (November 2, 2025). We limit for the sake of the length of the service. Please fill out all needed information.

For Veterans Day submissions, all requested names should be of a member who has previously served in one of the branches of the military. Please fill out all needed information.

You can use this form for multiple names. All submissions are due by Sunday, October 25.

Steps for an Extra Safe Halloween from the National Safety Council

Kids love the magic of Halloween, but costume and traffic safety are essential for trick-or-treaters. These tips can help make a safe and happy holiday for everyone.

Costume Safety

To help ensure adults and children have a safe holiday, follow these Halloween safety tips:

- Be sure to choose a costume that won't cause safety hazards; all costumes, wigs and accessories should be fire-resistant
- If children are allowed out after dark, fasten reflective tape to their costumes and bags, or give them glow sticks
- Opt for nontoxic Halloween makeup over masks, which can obscure vision; always test makeup in a small area first to see if any irritation develops
- Remove all makeup before children go to bed to prevent skin and eye irritation

When They're on the Prowl

Here's a scary statistic: Children are more than twice as likely to be hit by a car and killed on Halloween than on any other day of the year. Lack of visibility because of low lighting at night also plays a factor in these incidents. Keep these tips in mind when your children are out on Halloween night:

- A responsible adult should accompany young children on the neighborhood rounds
- If your older children are going alone, plan and review a route acceptable to you
- Agree on a specific time children should return home
- Teach your children never to enter a stranger's home or car
- Instruct children to travel only in familiar, well-lit areas and stick with their friends
- Tell your children not to eat any treats until they return home, and take care to avoid any food allergies

Safety Tips for Motorists

NSC offers these additional safety tips for parents – and anyone who plans to be on the road during trick-or-treat hours:

- Watch for children walking on roadways, medians and curbs
- Enter and exit driveways and alleys carefully
- At twilight and later in the evening, watch for children in dark clothing
- Discourage new, inexperienced drivers from driving on Halloween

If you never explored our free daily devotional, we picked out one particular day that you can pray through. We offer these devotionals at the back of the narthex or can mail one out to you. Many start the day reading the scripture suggestions and/or the reflection for the day, allowing the focus to illuminate one's day; others choose to end the day with the readings, thinking back on what had unfolded. Matthew 22:15-22

Twenty-First Sunday after Pentecost

Then the Pharisees went and plotted to entrap [Jesus] in what he said. (v. 15)

We know about qualifying tests. Want to become an attorney? Pass the bar exam. Want to be a nurse or doctor? Pass the medical boards. Want to operate a motor vehicle? Pass the driver's test.

Jesus was tested by an unlikely alliance of Herodians and Pharisees. The Herodians often did Rome's bidding. The Pharisees were committed to keeping the law of Moses. What bound these two groups together was a mutual distrust and dislike of Jesus. Together, they schemed to ask him a question that would get him in trouble no matter what he answered: "Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?" (v. 17).

But Jesus chooses his words carefully and turns the question back on them: "Whose head is on this and whose title? . . . [Give] to God the things that are God's" (vv. 20-21). In other words, are you following the way of the world or the way of God's realm?

The same question could be asked of us: Want to be a disciple of Christ? Choose your answer—and your actions—carefully.

When I am tested, O Lord, may I put my trust in you. Amen.
